The market continued the rises seen last week when the EMI rose by a further 26ϕ on top of the previous week's lift of 24ϕ . This week's gains were assisted by a further fall in the US Exchange Rate, which finished 1.55ϕ (-2.2%) lower to close at 69.55ϕ on Wednesday. It has fallen from a season peak of 75.7ϕ in the second week of April; and was the first time that it has fallen beneath 70ϕ since July 2020.

Gains were seen across all Merino and Crossbred Diameter ranges and types, with rises of 4% to 5% for wools of 28 to 32 microns. Gains among the Merinos were in the order of 2% across all micron ranges. Wools at the fine end of the Merinos are continuing to move up and are around 7% above their prices of 12 months ago.

Buyers for China were dominant, with support from buyers for India

Looking ahead, offerings for the coming three sales are expected to range from 37,761 bales to 46,129 bales and to be 9.4% less than in the same period last year. The forecast progressive difference to Week 48 is now +8.5%.

In other countries, the South African Cape Wools Indicator was up by 4.5% since last week against a 1.6% depreciation of the Rand against the US Dollar and a 1.9% depreciation against the Euro.
